ABOUT US

WeBunker is a new company branch started by Mansueto Group.

Nowadays it's for sure the easiest way to refuel your vessel worldwide thanks to the customized service figured out to meet clients' specific needs.

A team composed of highly experienced people in the industry will provide premium fuel and lubricants everywhere around the world through a well-established global network made with the major fuel producers and the most trusted lube oil companies.

WeBunker brings remarkable value by providing services not available directly from the physical supply market. The online service offered by webunker.com and our team's availability on a 24 by 7 basis allow captains and brokers to get the best price in the shortest time. Further with our innovative RCE (Route Calculator Engine) through webunker.com you will be able to estimate the quantity of fuel needed for your next route and get a specific price for it.

WeBunker ensures a constant supply of contaminant-free top quality grade fuel, oil and lubricants. Clients will always deal with people with the highest qualifications constantly trained to meet the highest standard for any technical need.

Our professionals will always provide MSDS and data-sheet for the products to be supplied in order to allow clients to check physical and thermodynamic characteristics of the products prior to the bunkering.

Any request of quote placed on webunker.com will be handled to satisfy the most demanding request in terms of quality, time and price.

Please get in touch with us today at info@webunker.com to get your best price.
